

Wants Immediate Trial

Portland, Oregon, Mayor Indicted

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Mayor Terry D. Schrunk of Portland said today he will demand an immediate trial on bribery and perjury charges filed against him by a grand jury.

"I am convinced that I will be acquitted of these ridiculous charges," Schrunk said.

The Multnomah county grand jury returned a total of 115 indictments Thursday against Schrunk, District Attorney William L. Langley, Clifford O. Bennett, operator of a night club, and police officer Richard Sutter.

Schrunk, Langley and Bennett recently appeared in Washington as witnesses before the Senate Rackets Committee.

Mayor Posts Bond
Schrunk surrendered to two indictments specifically charging him with receiving and agreeing to receive a bribe, and with perjury. He posted $1,000 bond on each charge.

Langley was accused of receiving and agreeing to receive a bribe, conspiring to hinder and obstruct justice, and for incompetency, corruption, malfeasance and delinquency in office. He posted $1,000 bond on each of the three charges.

Several witnesses testified before the Senate committee that Schrunk, when he was sheriff of Multnomah county, had accepted a $500 bribe from Bennett during the course of a gambling raid.

Schrunk denied under oath that he had taken any bribe. The indictment did not specify any amount.

Bennett invoked the Fifth Amendment when the Senate committee questioned him about the matter. The grand jury accused him of perjury as a result of its own investigation.

Sutter Charged Similarly

The grand jury also charged Sutter with perjury.

The officer testified about the alleged bribe before a grand jury last summer. In November, he signed an affidavit recanting his testimony that he had seen Schrunk pick up an envelope supposed to contain the $500.

Langley was quizzed by the Senate committee about an alleged tie-up with Teamsters Union officials and racketeers to "take over" gambling and other vice operations in Portland. He invoked the Fifth Amendment.

Fire Damages
Lincoln Home
At Springfield

SPRINGFIELD (AP) — The only home Abraham Lincoln ever owned was damaged by fire Thursday.

Authorities said workmen were burning old paint off the side of the building with torches and started a blaze that caused $500 damage. They said the south side of the structure, one of the most famous Lincoln shrines in Springfield, was damaged slightly.

Kathleen Brandish, custodian of the home, said the fire burned weather stripping from around a window and charred the frame of one window. She said water sprayed on the fire also caused damage to the sitting room.

Lincoln lived in the old building with his family during his days as an Illinois legislator and lawyer, before his election to the presidency. Thousands of tourists pass through it yearly.

Reynolds Hears
Arguments in Gibbons,
Darnell Petition

An additional ten days was granted this morning by Circuit Judge C. Ross Reynolds in the court action by Mayor Claud Gibbons and Commissioner Morris Darnell to vacate the post of commissioner held by Don Williams on the grounds Williams has moved out of the city.

Judge Reynolds, after hearing arguments by Atty. Lloyd H. Melton, representing Gibbons and Darnell, and Atty. Scerrial Thompson, representing Williams, granted Thompson ten days in which to file written briefs.

The arguments were over whether or not Gibbons and Darnell have the right as individuals to file quo warranto proceedings which seek to oust Williams. The two have filed a petition asking the court for permission to file the quo warranto proceedings.

Following the arguments before the court, Judge Reynolds said he was ready to pass on the question but would give Atty. Thompson ten days to file briefs supporting his contentions.

Melton used a court decision, McCarthy vs. Feirich, upon which to base his arguments. He contended the two petitioners have a personal and distinct interest in the case and that the only issue is: "Is there sufficient interest shown by the two?" He contended that as taxpayers in Harrisburg they have that right.

Thompson contended that the two had only a general and insufficient interest, that a private and peculiar right was necessary for individuals to file quo warranto proceedings, that the mayor and commissioner had no more interest than the general public.

A. A. Moore Wins
First Award of Harrisburg Days

Harrisburg Days, big local sales event, got off to a good start yesterday and entered its second day of a three-day event today.

The big award yesterday went to A. A. Moore of Harrisburg Route 1, well-known in this city. Mr. Moore received a spring wardrobe in the drawing held on the south side of the court house. Everybody was eligible for this award as all the participating merchants accepted entries without obligation.

Today another big award was to be given—a diamond ring or a month's supply of groceries.

Then tomorrow's big prize will be a hog, which will be exhibited uptown. The person guessing closest to its weight will be awarded it, processed or with a supply of feed. Persons guessing should first look over the hog, then go to a store and fill out and deposit an entry blank.

The guessing will continue until 2 p. m., it was announced.

E. J. Thompson, vocational agriculture instructor at Harrisburg Township high school, and boys in his classes have taken over the task of handling the display of the hog for the merchants.

Work Resumes
On CIPS Addition
At Grand Tower

GRAND TOWER, Ill. (AP) — Work has been resumed on a multi-million dollar addition to the Central Illinois Public Service Co. power plant here.

Some 250 men returned to work Wednesday after picket lines set up by engineers in a jurisdictional dispute between electricians and engineers had been removed. Work stopped on March 14.

The workers agreed to return to their jobs, leaving settlement of the original dispute up to representatives of both unions who will meet Friday at West Frankfort.

Operating engineers objected to use of a winch truck by electricians for one contractor, but had been ordered back to work by their international union.

A contractor said the project is about 10 per cent completed.

Action Taken After Beck's Refusal to Answer Senate Group

WASHINGTON (AP) — The AFL-CIO high command today ordered Teamsters President Dave Beck to stand trial May 20 on charges of "bringing the labor movement into disrepute."

Pending outcome of the trial, the AFL-CIO Executive Council suspended Beck as a vice president of the giant federation. It also ordered an investigation of the 1,540,000-member Teamsters Union to determine whether it is dominated "by corrupt influences."

The council action was the AFL-CIO's reaction to Beck's refusal on grounds of possible self-incrimination to answer Senate Rackets Committee charges that he "may have misappropriated" more than $322,000 in Teamsters funds.

It was the first time that the AFL-CIO has suspended an officer as high-ranking and powerful as Beck.

It was a bad day also for two other Teamsters officials, one of them Beck's heir apparent, Vice President James R. Hoffa.

Two hours before the AFL council acted against Beck, Hoffa was arraigned on federal bribery charges. His trial was set for May 27, in U. S. District Court here, but may be postponed. If convicted as charged, he faces a possible maximum penalty of 13 years in prison and $24,000 fine.

McClellan Praises Action

Later, Harry Reiss, a New York Teamsters official, also was arraigned in U. S. court here on charges of contempt of Congress. Reiss, welfare fund administrator for New York Local 227, pleaded not guilty.

These events occurred as the Senate committee dug into charges that Beck has been involved in strike-breaking and collusion with management.

Committee Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark) said "the action taken today by the AFL-CIO Executive Council with respect to Mr. Dave Beck is highly commendable. It should be applauded by the rank and file of the union throughout the country."

"It is very encouraging to the committee that this great labor organization has not only adopted costs of ethics but is evidencing in this fashion its intention to enforce them," he said.

Hoffa pleaded innocent to charges that he tried to bribe a rackets committee investigator. Also pleading innocent was his fellow defendant, Miami attorney Hyman L. Fischbach. Both remained at liberty. Hoffa under $25,000 bond and Fischbach under $10,000.

Counsel Robert F. Kennedy said the committee is looking into possible collusion and strike-breaking through Nathan W. Shefferman, Beck friend and purchasing agent.

Beck, meanwhile, was in Seattle complaining that the AFL-CIO council meeting was called too hastily for him to attend.

Committee members retorted angrily, meanwhile, to Beck's announcement Thursday that he will set up a million-dollar nationwide publicity program to "tell the true story" about his union.

McClellan told the United Press: "I think Mr. Beck can save all that money by telling the truth himself."

NOTICE

The Official Board of the Methodist Church wishes to take this means to respectfully call the attention of the public to the parking problem around the church. There have been times when people attending funerals or other church meetings were forced to park a long distance from the church because the spaces around the church were filled with cars in no manner connected with the service in progress in the church. We feel it is necessary that these spaces be reserved at all times for services at the church.

We regret that we are unable to provide parking space for everyone desiring it and we sincerely trust that you will understand our problem and cooperate with us.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says:
Franco's Resolution Was Sneaked Through House Of Representatives; Gillette Razors Face Monopoly Suit.

WASHINGTON. — Sometimes
it's hard for the American people to know exactly what's behind a congressman's speech when he makes it in the House of Representatives. Sometimes it's even harder to know what's behind a congressman's vote when he makes it secretly in a closed-door committee.

The secret vote and secret moves by Congressman William Miller, Lockport, N. Y., Republican, were not, however, hard to fathom when the vote was taken on civil rights the other day. The public of course did not know what was happening, because the proceedings were secret. However, it has a right to know, so here is the inside story of what happened.

The House Judiciary committee voted finally to approve the civil rights bill to protect the voting rights, plus other rights of Negroes. Before it voted, it had to overcome a hamstringing amendment by Miller.

The interesting point is why Miller, a northern Republican, introduced this amendment. One year ago he was the man who helped introduce the civil rights bill. He was strong for it. He posed as the great champion of the Negro. He talked like a second Abe Lincoln.

Then abruptly out of the clear blue last summer he reversed himself. Suddenly he began working with Congressmen William M.
Colmer of Mississippi, Howard Smith of Virginia, and others below the Mason-Dixon Line who are hell-bent to block civil rights.

MILLER DOES SOMERSAULT

Rising on the House floor last summer, Miller announced: "I make this motion in utter sincerity."

Then, overflowing with "profound conviction" and choked with "utter sincerity," he moved to recommit the very same bill he had signed as a sponsor.

FRANCO'S SLEEPER RESOLUTION

Passage of the House resolution unanimously approving admission of Franco Spain into NATO got big headlines. What didn't get into the newspapers was the manner in which the resolution was slipped through Congress without most members knowing what was up.

The Spanish resolution was voted on immediately after the opening prayer on Wednesday, March 20. Few congressmen were in the chamber. They don't usually arrive until 15 or 30 minutes after the opening.

The resolution was by "consent." One vote could have killed it. Therefore it was supposed to be listed on the consent calendar in advance so all members would know about it. But the consent calendar was called on Tuesday.
The Franco resolution was not listed on the consent calendar and came as a complete surprise on Wednesday when many congressmen who otherwise would have been on deck to vote against the Spanish dictator did not know what was happening.

RAZOR GIANT SUE

Gillette Razors has had an antitrust suit slipped on them for $1,000,000 of interest to every man who wrestles with a blade in the morning.

Testimony taken in advance of the trial has revealed that Gillette is getting to be about the only place where you can get a razor blade. It sells 90 per cent of those used in the USA, has achieved this near-monopoly by having the money to splurge on big radio-TV coverage. If the trend keeps up, other razor-blade companies will probably fade out of the picture.

The antitrust suit is brought by the Norman Tobacco and Candy Co., of Birmingham, Ala., on the charge that Gillette boycotts certain wholesalers, won't sell them Gillette blades unless the whole-salers load up with tie-in products.

Albert Roseman, head of Norman Candy, says that Gillette's salesmen won't take orders unless a dealer orders large amounts of "foamy shaving cream" and Gillette razors, thus forcing competitive products out of circulation.

The Justice Department has had its eye on Gillette off and on for some time, but it took a small company in Alabama to tackle the giant of the razor world.

The Christian Man

By EUGENE CARSON BLAKE, D.D.
(Written for NEA Service)

IV. MAN AND HIS FELLOWMEN

And he called to him the multitude with his disciples, and said to them, "If any man would come after me, let him deny himself and take up his cross and follow me. For whoever would save his life will lose it; and whoever loses his life for my sake and the gospel's will save it." Mark 8:34-35. RSV.

Too many people think of Christianity as if it were essentially a set of do's and don'ts, the do's being things that are idealistic but impractical and the don'ts being the things that make life fun. This is about as great a misunderstanding of Christianity as it is possible to fall into.

In the first place, Christianity is not a set of rules at all. At heart it is gospel which spreads to us from God. Christianity begins and ends with God, what he has done, what he is like, what he is doing and what he will do.

As God and man's relation to him is then the venter of Christian faith, it follows that no man can know or love God unless he learns to love his fellowmen.

The social understanding of religious duty is based squarely on the Old Testament, from which Jesus so often quoted, and was underlined by the New Testament, especially in the Epistle of John who wrote flatly: "He who does not love his brother whom he has seen cannot love God whom he has not seen."

But Christian teaching is not a series of idealistic exhortations to us about what we ought to do. Christianity is not idealism; it is realism. The heart of the teaching of Jesus consists of memorable statements about life, God and the world. If you believe them to be fact, you will not need to be urged by anyone to live differently.

For example, Jesus said, "It is more blessed to give than to receive." This is either true or false. Jesus said that "a man's life does not consist in the abundance of things he possesses." That is either true or false. At the end of the Sermon on the Mount, Jesus did not exhort us to follow his "ideals." He said: "Everyone then who hears these words of mine and does them will be a wise man who built his house upon a rock." There is really no use arguing about Jesus' teaching. If life does not bring its truth home to us, we are truly lost.

This is also true of the most drastic thing he ever said: "If any man would come after me, let him deny himself and take up his cross and follow me. For whoever would save his life shall lose it."

In this day, when men are seeking security above everything else, whether it be through pension plans, military armaments or life insurance (all of which are good or necessary things) we need to remember that Jesus' way is not one of security but of ultimate risk. He says to all of us that if we would follow him we must deny ourselves—accept freely suffering and risks and burdens for others—for this is the only way to "save" our life. All other ways are sure to end in failure.

Next: Man and his family.

New laxative discovery un-locks bowel blocks
without gag, bloot or gripe

Constipation is caused by what doctors call a "thrift" colon that, instead of retaining moisture as it should, does the opposite: robs the colon of so much moisture that its contents become dehydrated, so dry that they block the bowel; so shrunken that they fail to excite or stimulate the urge to purge that propels and expels waste from your body.
To regain normal regularity, the dry, shrunken, constipating contents of your colon which now block your bowel must be re-moistened. Second, bulk must be brought to your colon to S-T-R-E-T-C-H stimulate it to action; to a normal urge to purge.
And, of all laxatives, only COLONAM, the amazing new laxative discovery possesses COLONAM's great moisturiz-ing capacity, plus COLONAM's stretch-stimulating bulk. So effective it relieves even chronic constipation overnight, COLONAM is yet so smooth, so gentle it has proved safe even for women in critical stages of pregnancy.

Superior to old style bulk, salt or drug laxatives, COLONAM neither gags, bloats nor grips; won't interfere with absorption of vitamins and other valuable food nutrients; in clinical tests, did not cause rash or other reactions.
It's a physiological fact: Exercise tones your body! And COLONAM exercises your colon to tone it against constipation, overnight! Get COLONAM, in easy-to-take tablet form at any drug counter, today! Only 98¢ for the 60 tablet package, brings positive relief at less than 2¢ per tablet.

Region VII of Illinois Garden Clubs Meet At Presbyterian Church

The annual meeting of Region VII, Garden Clubs of Illinois, was held in the Presbyterian church, yesterday. There was an executive board meeting at 10:15 a. m. followed by the business meeting which was called to order by the chairman, Mrs. C. T. Jeffries of Carbondale, at 10:30 a. m.

A luncheon at 12:30 preceded the afternoon session in which William Marberry, assistant professor of Botany, SIU, gave an illustrated lecture on "The Uses of Broad-leaved Evergreens in Home Gardens." The meeting was adjourned by the new chairman, Mrs. J. Eldred Seymour of the Benton Garden Club.

More than 75 out of town visitors were welcomed at the morning session by Mrs. E. M. Travelstead. An informal Coffee had been held in the church parlors as the visitors arrived, so that there was a pleasant time of renewing acquaintances and making new ones. During the business meeting, reports of officers and committees were accepted and the election of officers, to serve for the next two years, was held. The roll call was answered by club units. There was good representation throughout the region.

Luncheon chairmen were Mrs. Louie Gaskins and Mrs. LeRoy Reese, representing the Evergreen and Saline County garden clubs. General committees of the Sarah Wiedemann and Carrie Wilson circles of the church prepared and served the most excellent luncheon; and the decorations on an Easter theme, featuring spring hats filled with flowers, and favors of small hats made of cardboard brims, marshmallow crowns and trimmed with bits of ribbon, net and artificial flowers, created a most colorful spring atmosphere. Attendance prizes were donated by White The Florist, Godard's Farm market and Kresge. The programs were hand colored by members of the garden club committees.

Mrs. W. F. Johnson, of the Eldorado garden club, installed the new officers in an impressive ceremony in the church auditorium. In this flower decorated setting, Mrs. Johnson charged the officers with their responsibilities and duties and likened their service to a "garden that can be cultivated, or allowed to die."

The new officers are Mrs. Eldred Seymour, chairman, Benton; Mrs. Clyde Cox, vice-chairman, Eldorado; Mrs. Paul Knight, recording secretary, Carmi; Mrs. C. Edwin Hair, corresponding secretary, Benton; Mrs. John Keith, treasurer, of the Anna Junior club; and Mrs. Oral Ramsey, historian, of Benton.

The retiring officers are: Mrs. C. T. Jeffries, chairman; Mrs. J. Eldred Seymour, vice-chairman; Mrs. Henry Scraeder, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Freeman L. Schraft, recording secretary; Mrs. George Haliday, treasurer, and Mrs. Francis VanTreese, historian. Mrs. Seymour, in her speech of acceptance of her chairmanship, commended the service of these women and the cooperation of all member clubs which their service has inspired. She gave her pledge "to do my best" in serving the region during her term of office.

Mr. Marberry, illustrating his lecture with color slides taken of gardens in Carbondale, England, Charleston, S. C., Holland, Spain, Virginia, Italy, Monaco and his own beautiful garden in Carbondale, brought home the facts that almost every flower seen in these gardens can be grown in this area, and that a garden need not be large but will reflect the taste and individuality of the gardener, to the extent of the time and effort that he can spend in cultivating it. The meetings closed on a note of success and pleasure.

College Women's Club Meets At Arensman Home

The March meeting of the Saline County College Women's club was held at the home of Mrs. J. H. Arensman. During the brief business meeting, it was decided to donate $10 to the Red Cross. The president, Miss Barbara Thompson, called attention to an interesting program to be given over WSL on March 30 from 11:30 to 12:30.

The program chairman, Mrs. Wayne Dixon, introduced two of John L. Schork's students at the HTHS who entertained. Miss Paula Reynolds played a piano selection, titled Revolutionary Etude, by Chopin; John Maszaros played a beautiful mazurka by Mozart, on his clarinet. After the music Mrs. Dixon gave a most interesting book review on "Famous Girls of the White House," written by Kate Dickinson Sweetser.

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. J. J. Klein, Mrs. Jerry James and Mrs. James Arensman, who served coconut pie, coffee and tea to 14 members and a guest, Mrs. Ben Chamness of the high school faculty.

Mrs. Bess Frohock of 114 West Poplar, has been hostess this week to her niece, Mrs. H. A. Horton of

In Memoriam
In loving memory of Leslie Robert who died one year ago March 29th: Beloved husband, sweet, happy memories cling around your name;
True hearts that loved you with deepest affection, who love you in death just the same;
You left behind a broken heart that never did forget you and never will.
And who always thinks of you and who tries to be brave and content.
Gone is the face I loved so dear and silent is the voice we loved to hear.
Sad but true, we wonder why that the best are always first to die.
I hope to meet you some day, I know not when.
To clasp your hand in the better land, never to part again.
Sadly missed by wife, children and grandchildren. *230-1

365 Motorists Bilked Out of License Fees

SPRINGFIELD (UP) — A total of 365 motorists may have been bilked out of their auto license fees through an alleged confidence scheme in east-central Illinois, the secretary of state's office reported today.

A spokesman for the secretary's office said at least that many license applications were involved in the alleged confidence game, in which Cleon Gillespie, 32, Kankakee, was charged in Champaign County.

Meanwhile Secretary of State Charles F. Carpenter ordered an investigation of an employee in the automobile department who took off-duty pay for checking applications for Gillespie at his home.

The employee, Virgil Johnson, has been suspended pending the outcome of the investigation. He said he was not aware that Gillespie was operating an alleged confidence game when he agreed to do the work at his home. Johnson, formerly of Mount Vernon, now lives in Springfield.

The spokesman said Gillespie's operations were largely confined to five counties, and the alleged confidence operation turned up when Gillespie paid for auto licenses he picked up for the motorists with two bad checks totaling $6,400.

Notaries to Make Good

Gillespie, Carpenter's office reported, apparently received many of the license applications and fees from notaries public in several cities to bring to Springfield for processing and receiving the license plates.

The notaries public were unaware that Gillespie did not make good on his payments for the licenses at Springfield, according to Carpenter's office.

Many of the notaries public have advised Carpenter's office they will make good on the money which they gave Gillespie, but which was not turned over to the secretary's office.

Gillespie is free on $7,500 bond on a charge of operating a confidence game in Champaign County. State's attorneys in several other counties were reported investigating the case.

Gillespie is listed as head of the Kankakee License and Title Service Inc., Kankakee.

No legal action has been started against Gillespie by the secretary's office. Persons who paid for their license through him are still liable for payment of the fees if the money is not collected from the notaries public or from Gillespie.

Zsa Zsa Rejects Film Offer for Shaved Head

HOLLYWOOD (UP) — Zsa Zsa Gabor Thursday turned down a $100,000 offer to shave her head for a movie under threat that she might lose a four-week resort hotel engagement at Las Vegas, Nev.

The blonde actress was scheduled to become a female Yul Brynner this week for her role as Stalin's mistress in "Girls of the Kremlin."

However, Beldon Kattelman, owner of the El Rancho Vegas, threatened Thursday to cancel the actress' contract if she showed up at the hotel bald for her engagement opening April 17.

"Vot could I do?" Miss Gabor said in her Hungarian accent. "Las Vegas said if I don't not cut my hair they would hold me over for another five weeks."

"So for that I'm keeping my hair. Besides, my mother (Mama Jolie Gabor) was on the telephone saying that she would disown me if I got 'he shave.'"

Miss Gabor said Universal-International Studios had offered her the $100,000 for shaving her head. She said, however, that she would make more money at Las Vegas by keeping her curly locks intact.

First Midwest Hemophilia Clinic Opens

The first Hemophilia clinic established in the Midwest is sponsored by the Midwest chapter of the National Hemophilia Foundation and opened on March 22, at Grant hospital, 551 West Grant Place, Chicago and is open every second Friday. Hemophiliacs, known as sufferers from "bleeder's" disease, who live in the Midwest area are expected to avail themselves of its services.

Dr. Dorothy Welker is Medical Director, and in charge of pediatric service. Other members of the staff are Dr. Henry Apfelbach, orthopedist, Dr. Joseph G. Mondo, dentist, and Mrs. Hazel Small Jones, R. N., clinic operation. Additional proposed services are psychiatric advice, educational guidance and vocational help.

The Midwest chapter of the National Hemophilia Foundation which is composed almost exclusively by hemophilic families, was started in Chicago in 1950 by Clifford T. Lyon, himself a hemophilic. The chapter was founded to provide aid, comfort, and education for these sufferers. It supplies its members in all five Midwest states with fresh-frozen type-specific plasma, free orthopedic braces, crutches, and special shoes, distributes pamphlets and papers on care and treatment of hemophilia; also operates a speaker's bureau to obtain blood donors volunteer workers and money to maintain its services, and to raise money for research. The office is located at 472 Deming Place, Chicago, phone number Diversey 8-2203.

Hemophilia, sometimes known as the "royal" disease because of its prevalence in ruling families of Europe, is characterized by severe and prolonged bleeding in which clotting is delayed for hours and even days. Frequent spontaneous bleeding into the joints is not only extremely painful but often results in crippling which can be corrected by orthopedic treatment, but which is always threatened by recurring attacks necessitating further correction plasma and blood transfusions are given repeatedly to hemophiliacs, who between bleeding episodes are apparently normal healthy children. Only males are afflicted by this hereditary ailment and it is estimated that there are about 40,000 in the United States. It is said, mutations account for about 100 new American Hemophilic families every year. Once the condition has appeared, its continuance is the same as inherited hemophilia.

The observation of hemophilia in the newly-opened clinic will add considerably to information of this presently little-known disease.

Isaiah R. Harris of Markham, Ill., 16114 South Honore street, is district captain and member of the National Hemophilia Foundation, Midwest chapter. He is a former resident of Carrier Mills and graduated from high school there in the class of 1944.

South Dakota's highway commission is planning a record $18,400,000 highway construction program for the state for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1956.

Father Seeks to Sue Gov't for Son's Injuries

CHICAGO — Peter de Young, 33, Ingleside, Ill., said he will seek to sue the government for injuries suffered by his sailor son when the youth allegedly was beaten by Marine guards.

De Young said Thursday he will ask advice from Sen. Everett M. Dirksen and Rep. Marquerite Stitt Church, Illinois Republicans, on how to bring suit.

"I'm told the government can't be sued except by special act of Congress," said de Young, executive of a gravel firm. "I'm going to get in touch with my representatives in Washington and ask them if I can do it."

His son, Richard, 18, told a Naval Board of Inquiry at Jacksonville, Fla., that his ear drums were broken as a result of a beating by Marine guards on March 13.

The youth said he was in the Cecil Field Naval Air Station brig at the time.

De Young returned from Florida with his son Wednesday. Richard is scheduled to report to Great Lakes Naval Training Station Saturday, de Young said.

Name Mother of 3 Mrs. Illinois

CHICAGO (U.P.)—A Glenview, Ill., mother of three will represent Illinois in the "Mrs. America" contest, slated for May 7-14 at Ft. Lauderdale, Fla.

Mrs. Virginia Bream, 35, a blue-eyed brunette, edged out nine other finalists Thursday night to become "Mrs. Illinois of 1957."

"It's a wonderful title," she said. "I'm so excited about it all."

Mrs. Bream, married 15 years, is a native of Canton, Ohio. Her husband, Robert, is sales engineer for Republic Steel. Her children, two boys and a girl, range in age from 14 to 8.

Mrs. Bream, a part-time model, said her formula for a successful home was "to create a system and stick by it."

Runners-up to Mrs. Bream were Mrs. Josephine Lindroth, a mother of two, from Waukegan, and Mrs. Nadine Martens, a mother of four, from Glen Ellyn.

Eight preliminary contests preceded the crowning of Mrs. Bream by Lt. Gov. John Chapman.

Other finalists were Mrs. Eulalia Grabeklis, Rock Falls; Mrs. Bernice Bammann, Beecher; Mrs. Dorothy Blue, Canton; Mrs. Joanne Hensley, Rockford; Mrs. Ethel Burge, Chicago; Mrs. Virginia Oedewald, of near Peoria, and Mrs. Merriada Carlson, Batavia.

Legislature to Begin Second Half of Session

SPRINGFIELD —The Illinois Legislature moves into the second half of its six month session next week, when the Senate convenes Monday afternoon.

The House, which met in regular session Wednesday and Thursday this week while the Senate was idle, will open for business again Tuesday.

Thursday the House received administration bills designed to back up Gov. William G. Stratton's highway safety program, including a flat 65 mile daytime speed limit for cars.

Another bill introduced would regulate trading stamps in Illinois. It would require trading stamp firms to post a $25,000 bond to insure their stamps would be redeemed, and would require $1,000 annual license fee for each trading stamp firm.

Senate Rejects Douglas Bill

WASHINGTON (U.P.) — A proposal by Sen. Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill.) requiring President Eisenhower to slice 25 per cent off a $1 1/2-billion public works program has been rejected by the Senate.

The amendment introduced by Douglas Thursday was turned down by Senate voice vote. Douglas cast the only audible vote in its favor.

"Everytime I rise to criticize a river and harbors bill, a perfect buzz of horns is set up around me," Douglas said.

It turned out he was right. Nine other senators of both parties fired questions and objections at him when he introduced the amendment to the Rivers and Harbors authorization bill. The amendment asked that the President postpone at least $375 million of the least needed projects in the bill.

Douglas charged that pressure from constituents was too heavy on Senators and Congressmen for objective judgment. He indicated that the enthusiasm in river towns over proposed navigation projects resulted in such pressure.

Laborers' Strike Halts Projects At Carbondale

CARBONDALE, Ill. (U.P.) — Some construction projects here, including three at Southern Illinois University, are idle for the second day in a laborers' strike.

Members of Laborers Local 227 set up picket lines Thursday at projects whose contractors have not signed a three-year contract calling for wage increases totaling 50 cents.

Under the last contract which expired Feb. 28, the laborers received $2.15 an hour.

Delmar Shackleton, business agent for the local union, said that another sub-contractor at a SIU project has signed the new wage agreement, and that workers will return Monday.

Shackleton said a federal mediator is attempting to arrange a negotiations session.

Saline River Project Given Senate Approval

The Register was informed today by Congressman Kenneth J. Gray from Washington that the Senate late last night passed his bill allowing $5,970,000 for flood control improvements on the Saline River and tributaries.

The project was included in an omnibus flood control bill calling for nearly $715 million for the Midwest and Missouri River Basin.

According to Rep. Gray the bill allows the amendment adopted in the House cutting local contribution payment by 75 per cent, leaving only $232,000 cash contribution out of the $5.9 million dollar project. He expects favorable House action soon.

The Senate approval approved the projects but did not include money. Funds for the work must come in separate appropriation bills probably in later sessions of Congress.

Farmer Who Dumped Wife's Body Sentenced

ROBINSON, Ill. (U.P.)—Glen Apple, 57, who had confessed to dumping his wife's body in a cistern after shoving her over a chair, was sentenced here today to from 1-to-14 years in Menard State Prison.

Apple, a farmer, pleaded guilty today before Judge Caswell Crebs to a manslaughter indictment returned Thursday by a special grand jury.

State's Atty. J. Stanley Bradbury said there was no evidence to show that Apple had murdered his wife.

The body of Mrs. Bertha Munderlow Apple, 72, was found in a well on Oct. 16, 1955, after she had been missing for more than five months.

Authorities said Apple's confession to them was verified by a lie detector test which Apple voluntarily took.

Apple said he had suffered severe headaches and was pacing the floor the night his wife died. He said she "nagged at him" to come to bed and he shoved her over a rocking chair.

Authorities said Mrs. Apple apparently died almost instantly after she was shoved. She suffered broken ribs which punctured her lungs.

Apple said he became panicky and drove around with the body for 14 hours, once stopping at a small country church to pray, before dumping the body in the well.

Apple was missing about 1 1/2 years before he was arrested in Duluth, Minn., last month on another charge, and confessed to authorities here.

The body will be taken to Kansas City, Kans. for burial on Sunday.

Nuxhall Allows Only Four Hits as Reds Beat Phils; Cards Beat White Sox, 7-4

By United Press
The Cincinnati Redlegs thought they had a 20-game winner in lefty Joe Nuxhall last season, until aches and pains held him to a "jinx 13," but it looks like 220-pound "Baby Joe" is ready now for that big year.

The hefty lefty looked pretty near his best form Thursday in giving up only four hits at Clearwater, Fla., to beat the Philadelphia Phillies, 5-2. He fanned five batters and, though he walked five, was in trouble in only one inning when a hit batsman, a walk and a balk helped the Phillies score twice.

Nuxhall won without the Redlegs' famed power. A three-run third-inning rally included only an error, four walks, and a sacrifice fly.

There was glory for another pitcher Thursday—Red Murf, the Milwaukee Braves' much-travelled reliever. Murf, who won his last game with a double, made lightning strike again in the same place—and this time against the world champion New York Yankees. The Braves defeated the Yanks, 6-4.

Dark Homers for Cards

He was allowed to bat for himself in the 10th with two on and two out. Yankee Manager Casey Stengel pulled his outfield in close, and Murf knocked one of Tommy Byrne's pitches over the center-fielder's head for another double to score both runners. Earlier, Tom Sturdivant of the Yanks had shut out Milwaukee for seven innings, bringing his string of scoreless frames to 21.

Around the other camps:
Yankee ace Whitey Ford was excused from today's game because of a "tender" throwing arm, but Mickey Mantle seemed to be making progress from his injured left ankle.

Al Dark's three-run homer was highlight of Cardinals' 7-4 win over the White Sox as lefty Billy Pierce was rapped for six runs in three innings.

Lou Skizas' three-run homer led the A's to a 7-3 win over Pittsburgh, one of his three hits. Rookie Rene Valdes of Brooklyn made another good showing, allowing only three singles in 4 2/3 innings in an 8-3 win over Washington.

Ace Frank Sullivan of the Red Sox seemed in shape, allowing the Cubs one unearned run in seven innings.

Bob Nieman's two-run homer in the ninth inning gave Baltimore a 5-4 win over the New York Giants, although the Giants still lead the Grapefruit League with a 12-6 record.

Branca Retires From Baseball

By United Press
The dream, that really never has been clear and bright ever since Bobby Thomson hit "that home run," has ended at last for Ralph Branca.

The tall, husky righthander, who has been trying to make a comeback as a pitcher with the Brooklyn Dodgers, heeded the advice of his wife today and retired from the game at the age of 31—exactly 10 years after he became a 21-game winner and one of baseball's top youngsters.

"I'm going to call it quits," said Branca at Orlando, Fla. "I'll probably try the insurance business."

Thus appeared to end a baseball career that will be remembered in the history of the game for just one pitch—the one Branca threw to Thomson of the New York Giants in the final pennant playoff game of 1951. Thomson blasted it for a three-run homer to win the game and the pennant for the Giants—perhaps the most dramatic single blow in the history of baseball.

Branca never regained the heights after that. He left the Dodgers for Detroit, then the Yankees, then into retirement, and finally this last comeback.

Branca was one of a number of players lopped from big league rosters today as the teams struggled to reach the 28-man player limit by the new opening day deadline.

The Dodgers optioned right-hander Bob Darnell to Los Angeles while the Washington Senators cut six men and the Kansas City A's were right behind with five released.

— Scottsdale is a modern replica of an old far western town — the Williamsburg, Va., of Arizona.

Trying to get more mileage out of the Orioles at smacking new Scottsdale Stadium, Paul Richards wishes that the major leagues would bring their competitive setup as up-to-date as this delightfully different resort in the Valley of the Sun.

Manager Richards got the Baltimore club to sixth place over the dead bodies of the Senators and Athletics last trip, and hopes to win more games this, but the one-time catcher doesn't talk anything like Will Harridge.

President Harridge once more anticipates a closer fight and improved attendance. He makes like the Yankees are no longer in the American League, which, as a matter of fact, they are not. The Bombers actually are a wide rung out of the wheel, perhaps as many

Looking At Sports

By BILL MELTON

John Tidwell, the all-stater from Herrin, topped the all-opponent basketball team selected by the Harrisburg high school varsity cagers, it has been reported in the Purple Clarion.

Tidwell received 100 votes, thirty more than Wayne Neible of West Frankfort, the second choice of the Bull Dogs.

Rounding out the first ten, in order of votes received, were Don Williams, Mt. Vernon; Ivan Jefferson, Herrin; Jerry Schuchman, Centralia; Vern Rollins, Carrier Mills; Richard Box, Herrin; Roger Sloan, McLeansboro; Richard Lovelace, Carbondale; James Rouse, Carrier Mills.

Tidwell, beyond all doubt, was the top basketball player in these parts this past season.

When the South Seven conference coaches got together to make the annual all-star selections Tidwell was right at the top of the list.

During the state tournament an all-state team was picked and there was Tidwell, right up there on the first five.

And last Sunday a magazine, with nationwide distribution, carried an All-American High School basketball squad and Tidwell was on the second All-American team.

Ray Hassett, junior guard, has been selected as the Most Valuable Player on the 1956-57 edition of the Harrisburg high school basketball team.

The Purple Clarion annually polls sportswriters and sportscasters in making the MVP selection. This year it was a tight race between Hassett and Senior Wayne Stone. Only one vote separated the two.

More than 100 candidates reported for spring football practice at the University of Illinois.

Included in the squad are several letter winners.

In discussing the squad, Head Coach Ray Elliot said "I think we have some boys from the freshman squad who can help us. However, I prefer to wait until the end of spring drills before making any predictions about who they are."

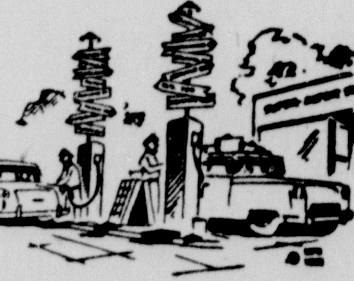

Getting close attention for the quarterbacking will be a group that includes incoming sophomore Russ Martin, Carbondale.

Lindell Lovellette of Eldorado, who received his freshman numeral, is among the line candidates.

Illinois' basketball team played before 168,882 in 1957 season. Largest crowd was 15,678 at Chicago Stadium, Jan. 26, when Illini beat Notre Dame 99-81. Total home attendance for 11 games was 68,448.

Isaac Logart Favored Over Gil Turner Tonight

NEW YORK — Cuban Isaac Logart, loudest contender for the welterweight title, is favored at 11-5 to beat Gil Turner again tonight in their return 10-rounder at Madison Square Garden.

It will be the last fight at the Garden until July 5. Other attractions, including the circus and evangelist Billy Graham, are slated meanwhile at the punch emporium.

Tonight's bout will be televised and broadcast nationally by NBC; and the succeeding Friday TV-radio fights will be presented by NBC from other cities until the leather-tossers return to "The House that Tex Rickard Built."

Logart, third-ranking contender for Carmen Basilio's crown, won a close but unanimous decision over ex-challenger Turner at the Garden last Oct. 21. However, at that time Gil was trying unsuccessfully to fight as a middleweight.

Ike, 23, is yelling loudly for a title fight because he won 11 of his last 12 bouts, and he is offering Basilio a guarantee of $50,000 for a crown-defense.

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Dieffenbacher, D. D.
(Written for NEA Service)

For many years God has been writing messages in the sky. Man has read these signs directly overhead, but he has also tried to read these signs from a distance in order to predict the weather in advance. We do a modest job of predicting tomorrow's weather, but we find that God has a way of sweeping the sky beyond man's expectation.

Man has also tried writing on the blue background of the sky with white letters of foggy material. For a short time we can read these messages which float in contrast to the blue sky in the background. Thus skywriting soon disappears as do the signs of the weather.

God keeps the sky beyond the control of man as he does many of His other messages to man. We understand God's word through prayer and personal contact with His spirit more than through worldly signs of prophecy.
